3. Fall Breakfast: Role of the Site Administrator in Induction

Wednesday, November 9, 2016. 8am-11am at UCSC-Silicon Valley

Fall Breakfast is an annual event hosted by the Santa Cruz/Silicon Valley New Teacher Project each November. It is an opportunity to showcase and learn about topics relevant to supporting new and all teachers in your schools and districts while enjoying a delicious breakfast with colleagues old and new. Given our topic this year, we particularly encourage you to invite site administrators to attend, along with union representatives, board members, and other stakeholders and special guests to attend. An informational flyer and registration information for this event will be available soon.

4. Coaching for Success: Forum Series

There is still time to enroll instructional coaches who attended coaching academies with SC/SVNTTP this summer to join our ongoing coaching forum series! These monthly meetings designed especially for Instructional Coaches are intended to support participants in deepening their coaching knowledge and skill and to support partner districts in increasing alignment of support for new and all teachers. Please see the attached flyer for more details. If your coaches did not participate in the academies, consider participating in our academies and forum series next year.

5. SC/SVNTTP Resources for Administrators

Where is that Site Administrator Handbook? How about that letter that explains Talent? Answers to these questions and more can be found on the www.scsvntp.com website under the Site Administrators tab. We encourage you to bookmark this site, refer your Site Administrators to it, and let us know how we can make it more useful!
